

University of Illinois, Metropolitan Group Hospitals

Resident Name:

PGY: 1 2 3 4 5

Date of Surgery: .....

OSAT for FLS Junior

Module #1 Peg Transfer : Total time (in) min/sec

Good hand coordination	Yes	No
Drops peg out of field	Yes	No
Good grasp on the peg	Yes	No

Module #2 Precision Cutting : Total Time (in) min/sec

Able to cut on line	Yes	No
Knows when to switch hands	Yes	No
Good wrist movements	Yes	No

Module #3 Loop Knot Tying : Total Time (in) min/sec

Applies knot at the line	Yes	No
Knows when to position during tying with minimal motion	Yes	No
Applies a secure knot	Yes	No

Module #4 Extracorporeal Knot Tying : Total Time (in) min/sec

Applies knot on the dot	Yes	No
Knows how to throw one hand tie extracorporeally	Yes	No
Does not avulse the rubber drain	Yes	No
Ties a secure knot	Yes	No

Module #5 Intracorporeal Knot Tying : Total Time (in) min/sec

Applies knot at the dot	Yes	No
Knows how to position needle while introducing the suture	Yes	No

University of Illinois, Metropolitan Group Hospitals

Resident Name:

PGY: 1 2 3 4 5

Date of Surgery: .....

OSAT for FLS Junior

Knows how to position the needle while knot tying	Yes	No
Switches hands between throws	Yes	No
Places a square knot	Yes	No
Does not avulse the rubber drain	Yes	No
Applies a secure knot	Yes	No

It is expected that by the end of the third year of residency, each resident has become proficient in FLS junior, advanced laparoscopic skills in simulation lab.

Overall Performance	<input type="checkbox"/> Outstanding <input type="checkbox"/> Proficient <input type="checkbox"/> Fail
Attending Name: .....  Signature: .....	Comments: