

University of Illinois, Metropolitan Group Hospitals

Resident Name:	PGY: 1 2 3 4 5	Date of Surgery:
----------------	----------------	------------------------

OSAT for Laparoscopic Right Hemicolectomy

--	--	--	--

Ability to diagnose right colon diseases based on clinical exam and history	Unable to make diagnosis	Had to be Coaxed	Decision made on logical sequence with differential diagnosis
Understands value of CT Scan, labs, colonoscopy and lower GI studies	Does not understand	Understands with a little help	Up-to-date with current literature
Appropriate pre-op preparation, including antibiotics at appropriate time	Not Ordered	Ordered	Ordered and checked that it was administered
Able to select appropriate port site and insert ports	Lost, Unsure	Negotiated with attending, insertion rough, needs attending guidance	Perfect, smooth movements, understands optimal positioning
Knowledgeable of laparoscopic instrument use and appropriate utilization	Unsure of which instruments to use, has trouble with basic use	Knowledgeable of instrument, but requires some assistance with utilization	Proficient use of instruments
Ability to isolate and manipulate right colon laparoscopically	Unable to dissect	Dissection with help of Attending, assistance with instruments required	In a timely fashion, proficient use of both hands for manipulation and dissection
Able to conduct hemostasis and specimen retrieval	Lost >400 cc of blood, unable to retrieve	Minimal Bleeding, retrieval with assistance	All vessels ligated before bleeding and unassisted retrieval
Handling of tissues	Injured surrounding tissue, rough, visible damage	Some injury to tissue but needs to refine movements	Gentle with tissue, no visible damage
Able to perform ileo-colic anastomosis	Improper handling of bowel and stapling devices	Some injury to bowel, but needs to refine movements	Gentle with bowel, no visible damage, smooth movements

University of Illinois, Metropolitan Group Hospitals

Resident Name:

PGY: 1 2 3 4 5

Date of Surgery:

OSAT for Laparoscopic Right Hemicolectomy

Overall Performance

Outstanding Proficient Fail

Attending Name:

.....

Signature:

.....

Comments: